Oceania DX Contest NZ Club Award

Want a fun branch activity and maybe win a nice plaque for the clubrooms? Why not have a go at the Oceania DX Contest NZ Club Competition award? Entering is easy and it doesn't require a lot of organising. Just ask your club members to make a few contacts during the Oceania DX Contests held on the first two weekends of October. Operate in either or both and submit their log (mentioning your club or group in the soapbox comments). Full details are on the website

You and your mates don't need to be hard-core contesters, just 50 QSOs each is enough to qualify and the OCDX is known as one of the friendlier events. An added bonus is that the world's antennas are turned this way for a change!

If you have any questions or need a hand to set it up, contact one of the OCDX committee members, Gary ZL2iFB or Geoff ZL3GA.
