Andrew White Memorial SOTA Activity Day 15th September.

Hi all. Sadly, we lost Andrew ZL3CC unexpectedly earlier this year. To remember him, and his contributions to SOTA, AREC and amateur radio in general, the Saturday following his birthday is to be the Andrew White memorial SOTA Activity day. The aim is to encourage portable operation from a summit, and to encourage new and experienced hams to give SOTA a go.

For those that are not aware of the fun that SOTA can hold, the rules are simple. Select a summit from one of the 5000 or so available in New Zealand. Ensure you have the necessary permission (if private land) to access the summit. Set up a portable station from the summit (or within 25 vertical metres from the summit spot height). To be a true portable station it cannot be connected in any way to a vehicle. Power must be from a battery or solar source. Fossil fuel sources or the grid are not allowed.

To select a summit go to www.sotamaps.org select your desired association (country) and region, and have a look around the map for one you would like to activate. If you are unsure send me an email and I can give you some suggestions depending on where you are warren@zl2aj.com. Once you have chosen your summit post an alert up on www.sotawatch.org under alerts. You will need to login to do this. Most of the activity will happen between 0000 and 0200 UTC but if this timeframe doesn't suit select the timeframe that best suits you. Feel free to join us on the ZL-SOTA Facebook group to let others know what you are planning or if you need any advice about a summit or operating technique.

On the day.

40 and 20 metres are good places to gather contacts. As is 5.353 if you have permission to operate there (contact Debbie to arrange this). On 40 we usually operate 7.090 but for larger events like this we will spread out a bit each way. On 20 the usual frequency is 14.310 +/- spread. Any valid contact (not through a terrestrial repeater) on any band and any mode qualifies. Exchange signal report and callsign. If you are working summit to summit it is good practice to also exchange summit identifiers. 4 contacts with different hams gathers you the points for the summit. To boost your chances post a spot on www.sotawatch.org or use sotaspotter app (for android) or sotagoat (Apple) to do this for you.

Please let others know your plans for the day, take all the usual safety precautions, and don't underestimate the summit or the weather on the day. Have fun, take time to enjoy the views, and be safe. Once you are back home please let me know how your day went by sending me a short report to warren@zl2aj.com and I will include it in the next Break In column.

Thanks

Warren ZL2AJ (SOTA Association manager for ZL)
